membership. Mr. Leland added that the action of these firms in dealing with the gang has in a measure prevented State detectives from running down the washers

Last night Detectives Darcy and Schoen-ick learned that young King had a furnished room at 3721/2 Pacific street, Brooklyn, although he gave them an address in Nevins street. The landlady let them into the boy's room late last night, where they confiscated what they say is one of the washing outfits. It consisted of five blotters, a quantity of mucilage; a bottle o Javelle water, a pot of glue, a bottle of muriatic acid, four ink eradicators, a box of powder, forty stock transfer slips, on which were cancelled stamps of $1, $2 and $20 denominations. The outfit was taken to Police Headquarters.

The police believe that each member has a cappellation outfit at his home. Even the perforated cancelled stamps were so neatly ironed out that an expert had to scrutinize them closely before detecting anything the

This fact led Mr. Leland to suggest that the proposition be put to all the banking and brokerage houses in the city having a process of cancellation that would cut the stamps so that there would be absolutely no chance of their being used more than once.

He intends to confer with the officials of the Stock Exchange about this matter and, if possible, have them come to some de cisive and speedy action in the matter.

For the misdemeanor with which the prisoners are charged the maximum penalty s not more than six months in the penitententiary or a fine of $1,000. The five of them will be arraigned before Magistrate Mayo in the Tombs police court this morning when Assistant District Attorney McGuire, Mr. Leland, on behalf of the State Comptroller, and a representative of the Attorney-Gen eral's office, will be on hand to take part in the prosecution.

The police would not say last night what action, if any, they intended to take with reference to the girl who, it is said, supplied the mucilage and they would not say whether or not she was guilty of any violation of the statutes in so doing.

This is the first time that arrests have been made for washing of the stamps used on the stock transfer slips as required by the State law. After the start of the Spanish-American war, when the United States Government put a tax on every negotiable document, some young Brooklynites got to work washing the stamps used on checks and the like, and did a thriving business for several months.

The police got on to their game, howeyer, and seized their washing outfit. The washing of the war tax stamps was not as profitable as that operated by the prisoners now looked up at Police Headquarters. Late last night one of the prisoners,

Lawrence, was bailed out by Edward Glinnen of 64 Herbert street, Brooklyn, whose bond of $500 was accepted by Sergt. Barrett. Nobody connected with the case attempted to estimate approximately how much the State has lost since the stamp washers began their laundry operations, but Mr Leland says that he believes that $250,000 is a low estimate. McSherry, said Assistant District Attorney McGuire last night, had an office at 54 Broad street, where he sold genuine and remade revenue stamps under guise of running a general store of postage stamps for collections. Mr. McGuire said that McSherry bought $2,000 worth of cancelled stamps for $11 from office boys. He also said that many stamps were cancelled merely with a rubber hand stamp instead of being punched through as the law re-

GOMPERS APPEALS FOR MONEY. Wants a Million or More to Wage Labor's War at the Polis.

WASHINGTON, July 24.-In his campaign this fall President Samuel Gompers, who will lead the forces of the American Federation of Labor, will fight the money power with its own weapons. He has issued an appeal to the thousands of locals and the are ide Federation to subscribe to the campaign fund. He wants each local to chip in $5 and each man to give at least $1 for the good of the cause this year.

If President Compers received a substantial reply from each local and man addressed he would have a fund in excess of $2,000,000, but he does not expect that such a large amount will be collected. He and his associates, however, expect to have a fund considerably larger than those of the Republican and Democratic Congress

In his appeal for money to defeat Representatives in Congress who have opposed measures designed for the relief or benefit of labor President Gompers points out that a successful battle cannot be waged unless funds are forthcoming. He explains that a great deal of money will be needed for publicity work alone. The expenses of speakers and big rallies must also be irret.

also be met.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 24.—David M. Parry, former president of the National Association of Manufacturers, is not disposed to take Samuel Gompers seriously when he advises laboring men to organize a political body and vote only for men pledged to the interests of labor. He says that Gompers are the beautiful and the says that Gompers are all the says that has been made ridiculous by some of his former edicts and he will be made more idiculous by this one. Continuing, Mr

Parry said: "The only pledge that organized labor should exact from a candidate is that all classes shall be treated alike, the capitalist classes shall be treated alike, the capitalist and the laborer. Neither should be favored; neither should be neglected. Organized labor should receive no more than capital and it should ask no more.

"The minute a candidate pledges himself to give special aid to the capitalist or to the labor organization, then class legislation stepssin and the fight degenerates into one for advantages rather than one for justice.

"Gompers has said that organized labor has no affiliation with the Socialist party, but I notice the labor papers are taking issue with him."

NAVIGATING RULES CHANGED. Masters of Passenger Barges Will Now Be

Required to Take Out License WASHINGTON, July 24 .- Several change have been made in the rules governing the navigation of steam vessels, in accordance with recommendations made by the executive committee of the Board of Supervising Inspectors of the Steamboat Inspection Service. One of the most important requires masters of passenger barges to take out a license under the Federal laws. The use of the present fire extinguishing apparatus after adequate est has been approved, and permission 's also given to masters of vessels not exceeding 300 gross tons to utilize a shoulder gun as a line carrying projectile in case of wrecks instead of a cannon, as at present.

Section 9 of rule has been so amended as to authorize the issuance of licenses t officers of the Lighthouse Service. This was done at the request of the Lighthouse Service, which desired to have its men possess certificates as is the case on all vessels other than those owned and operated by the Government. Such licenses will be valid only so long as those to whom they are issued remain in the Lighthouse Service. Complaint having been made of the delay at custom houses in the issuance of certificates to masters of vessels, requiring a layup for two or three days, and even longer in some cases, provision is made whereby the local inspectors may issue what will be known as "temporary certificates." Vessels may be operated under such a certificate until permanent ones have been issued. These changes having been approved by the Secretary of Commerce and Labor they have force of law. vice, which desired to have its men possess

BRYAN'S PRACE PLAN ADOPTED

ARBITRATION CONGRESS CHEERS HIS ADDRESS.

Aims at Separation of Questions of Fact and Honor in Disputes Between Na-tions—Alse Gives Time for Calm Consideration of Question at Issue.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. London, July 24.-The congress of the Interparliamentary Union for the Promotion of International Arbitration held its second day's session to-day. Herr von Plener, former Austrian Minister of Commerce, announced that it had been decided to submit a resolution combining the amendment offered by William J. Bryan yesterday with the proposed model treaty of arbitration drawn up by the Brussels commission. The resolution reads as follows:

"If a disagreement should arise between the contracting parties which is not one to he submitted to arbitration they shall not resort to any act of hostility before separately or jointly inviting, as the cause may necessitate, the formation of an internations ommission of inquiry or mediation on the part of one or more friendly Powers. This requisition will take place, if necessary, according to article 8 of the Hague convention for the peaceful settlement of international conflicts. Mr. Bryan rose to speak on the resolution and was cordially cheered. He said that the resolution was on the lines of the memorable and epoch making speech delivered yesterday by the Prime Minister. The resolution dealt with questions affecting the honor and integrity of a nation. The first advantage of the resolution was that it would secure an investigation of the facts and if the fact could but be separated from the question of honor the chances were a hundred to one that the parties to the dispute would settle both the question of fact and the question of honor. [Cheers.] A second advantage of the resolution was that it would give time for calm investigation. Great questions ought to be settled not by passion but by deliberation. A third advantage would be to give opportunity to mobilize public opinion for the compelling of a peaceful settlement, and that was an advantage not to be overlooked. He considered the resolution a long step in the direction of peace.

"Public opinion," continued Mr. Bryan, is going to be more and more a power in the world. One of the greatest statesmen my country has produced-if it were not immodest so to call him, the greatest statesman the world has produced—Thomas Jefferson, once said that if he had to choose between government without newspapers and newspapers without a government be had rather risk the newspapers without the government. You may call it an extravagant utterance, yet it presents an idea, and that idea is that public opinion is a controlling "The glad time is coming when public opinion will be more and more a controlling force, when the moral sentiment of one nation will affect the decision of other nations, when the world will realize that war between two nations affects others besides themselves. The glad time is coming when the world will not stand idly by while two nations settle a difference without proposing that it shall be settled by peaceful

Pointing dramatically to a painting on the wall, immediately opposite where he was standing, depicting the death of Nelson. Mr. Bryan exclaimed: "There is as much inspiration in a noble life as there is in an neroic death." [Loud cheers.]

Mr. Bryan concluded by saying that permanent peace could be established only upon a foundation of the brotherhood of man. [Cheers.]

The resolution was then put to the conference and was unanimously adopted. Mr. Bryan's speech deeply moved the delegates. Some of them rushed forward at the close of it and shook hands warmly

It was announced that Japan had sent s delegate to the Congress. The Treasury has granted £5,000 toward the expenses of the conference.

LONDON, July 25 .- Mr. Bryan's speech is the subject of general editorial comment in the London papers. The Times says it covered a wider range than it may seem to most people within practical bounds to-day, but the force and fire of such a speech are not lost because they transcend he actual. It was well that the conference should set about its labors with such inspiring words ringing in its ears, and it is appropriate enough that those words should have fallen from an American speaker. The Times, however, thinks that for the gener ality of powers Mr. Bryan's resolution is hardly to be regarded as anything but the counsel of perfection. It says:

"It might find a place in an agreement between two powers whose relations were intimate and cordial as those of ourselves and the United States or France to-day Yet even in these cases there would be difficulty in including questions which touch the honor or vital interests of a nation. We must continue to feel that the surest road to the great end Mr. Bryan desires, as all do, may be rather those procesic and seemingly trivial ag reements which can be extended to cover the ever widening network of problems to be sub-mitted to arbitration.

"WURST" PRODUCTS BARRED. Imported Meats After Sept. 1 Will Be Shu

Out of Inland Towns. WASHINGTON, July 24 .- American consumers of paté de foie gras, cervelatwurst, wienerwurst and other mest products made abroad who are not fortunate enough to live in New York or other seaport cities will have to go without these palate ticklers after September 1, when the meat inspection law will go into effect.

The law prohibits the admission into interstate commerce of meats that have not been inspected at the time of slaughter, and this means the passing of the imported frankfurter, pâté de foie gras and meat compounds with a "wurst" affix, so far as the inland population is concerned. Importations of meat products at New York and other seaport cities that are consumed at such places are not affected by the act.

Secretary of Agriculture Wilson said to-day that the regulations governing the enforcement of the new law are now in print, but that before they are given to the public they will be gone over with great care. They will probably not be made public until the latter part of the week.

Speaker Cannon and a party of legislators including Senator Boies Penrose and Con gressmen Loudenslager and Sherman, hit Coney Island last night in search of a good time. After visiting Steeplechase Park they went to Luna Park, where, under the guidance of Bill Thompson, they first saw the great train robbery. The Speaker was delighted with it and after the performance expressed a desire to meet Miss Laurel WASHINGTON, July 24 .- Major Charles McCawley, quartermaster, United States Marine Corps, and Mrs. Sallie Freling-huysen Davis, of this city were married to-day at Providence Hospital, where Major McCawley is recovering from an attack of typhold fever. Major McCawley will be taken to his wife's cottage at Be Harbor when he is well enough to travel.

The Rev. Edwin S. Dunlap of St. John's

Episcopal Church performed the ceremony, which was witnessed only by J. Bancroft Davis, the son of the bride, Woodbury Blair and Dr. M. F. Cuthbest.

The wedding is the culmination of a re-

He is popular with President Roosevelt. Mrs. McCawley is the daughter of the late Theodore Frelinghuysen of New Jersey, who was Secretary of State in the Cabinet of President Arthur. The Corporation Counsel also insists that the Board of Review make a thorough investigation into the truth of his charges and find whether any more of the property belonging to the Field estate has been transferred out of Chicago recently.

This communication to the Board of Review is the first volley fired by the Corporation Counsel since his ten days trip to New York for the avowed purpose of ferreting out personal property belonging in Chicago which, he alleges, has been sent to Wall Street to avoid taxation in Chicago.

ITALIAN EVANGELISTS MOBBED. Thirty Policemen Save Preachers From

Fury of Their New Haven Compatriots. NEW HAVEN, July 24.—Thirty policemen ent on a riot cell to-night to some the Rev. Vincenzo Casterrelli, who with two other evangelists has been conducting revival among the Protestant Italians in this city in the heart of the Italian Catholic section.

Vincenzo and his assistants began their mission work Sunday night in a tent about a block from St. Michael's Italian Catholic Church. The first night one policeman was there to preserve order. Last night four were needed. To-night soon after the services were started rocks were thrown through the tent at the 200 persons listening to Cas-terrelli. Then lighted torches were hurled at the tent to set it afire. at the tent to set it anne.

BOOKKEEPER ARRESTED.

He Is Charged With Larceny From Claremont Mills. Frederick Heidrich, a bookkeeper for the Claremont Mills, a fabric concern at 515 Broadway, was arrested and looked up at Police Headquarters last night on a charge of grand larceny. The warrant for his arrest, issued by Magistrate Mayo in arrest, issued by Magistrate Mayo in the Tombs police court on the compalint of John F. Hart, representing the company, charges Heidrich with stealing $310.24 on March 30. Hart says that experts have been going over the books for some time and have found a shortage of about $2.500.

Heidrich has a wife and three little children and lives at 509 East Seventh street, Brooklyn. He was walking with two of his children on the sidewalk in front of his home last night when arreated by Detective Sergeants Somers and Brown.

Heidrich has been in the employ of the concern for several years and got a salary of $20 a week.

ONE HEIR IN ALMSHOUSE. Likely That $200,000 Estate of Patrick

White Will Go to Two Irishmen. It is now probable that the $200,000 estate left by Patrick White, the aged recluse who died in the Mansion House in Brooklyn on May 2 and who is supposed to have left no heirs, will revert to James Nolan, an inmate of the almshouse in County Wexford, Ireland, and Patrick Noian, his brother, also a resident of that county and in reduced oir-cumstances.

The Nolans, it is said, are sons of Mary The Nolans, it is said, are sons of Mary Nolan, who was a sister of White's father. Public Administrator Bristow of Brooklyn, who has had charge of Mr. White's property since his death, has found that for some time after his arrival in this country in 1844 White kept up a correspondence with Mrs. Nolan and that his letters are in the possession of her sons.

White left no will, but from papers found among his effects it seems that it was his intention to bequeath all his property to Catholic institutions in Brooklyn and New Orleans.
